Daniele Roccato - Marco Tezza

double bass and piano

In a musical landscape in which it is always more difficult to find examples able to go further the "already seen" and "already heard", the Duo Roccato-Tezza, double bass and piano, has been seen, since its first appearance (September 1999), as one of the most enchanting news in the chamber field. With a philological study of shapes and styles, the two artists have gone beyond the natural border of the two instruments, trying to find new musical levels and original musical logics. The critics have underlined that the Duo Roccato-Tezza has given birth to intense interpretations, able to excite the public. The Duo has recently recorded a CD for Velut Luna, dedicated to the Sonata "Arpeggione" by Schubert, to Fantasiestucke and to Romanze Op. 94 by Schumann; this CD has received excellent critics (Amadeus, CD Classica, RadioTre Suite, Audio Review, Suono, ecc.)
